Chapter 1

It was a Normal weekday night Ally was in her room with her Grey book and her vibrator wishing it was Austin and not the stupid toy and book but she was used to this given the fact she couldn't just ask him to come over right now he had to be sleeping by now it was 4am and she couldn't sleep she needed him so bad but she didn't want to wake him just as she was about to give up on the vibrator doing the trick he opens the door Ally sits the book and vibrator on her nightstand and then gets out of bed and runs onto his arms he kisses her deep as they start moving across her room and over to her bed he lays her down on the bed then walks over to her nightstand and sees the book and vibrator he just says really Als you know I'm just a call and 5 min drive away she crews over to him and says ya I know but your not always available and this stuff plus my imagination of us together sometimes does the trick he just shakes his head and starts kissing her deep and lays her back on the bed and gets on top of her he can feel her heat though his jeans that have become crazy tight she says you have to much on as they pull apart for air he nods and get off her and strips within a matter of a moment he was back on top of her nothing in between them nothing stopping them he starts kissing her neck she starts to moan as he slowly starts to push into her it's doesn't take long before they have found a rhythm the way they made love was just as perfect if not better than their song writing the way their bodies moved as one was just magic he kept moving from her neck to her lips kissing her jaw every so often it wasn't much longer till they both felt like they were at the edge her walls ever so tight around him within a matter of a few more thrusts into her they were both coming undone hard he pulled out of her and she gives a happiness filled sigh as she cuddles with him their legs still intertwined together he kisses her then says I wish we could just stay like this forever she says I feel the same way then kisses him deep and gets on top of him and says are you up for round two yet she kisses him again and starts to feel him get hard under her and she says I take that as a yes as she slides herself onto him and slowly starts to move up and down soon the rhythm turns faster and deeper then round one she starts kissing his neck and moves down to his chest all while continuing to go faster and deeper if you were to ask them what was one of the best feelings in the world for them they would say something not everyone would want to hear and that would be the way they both feel when he is inside her if they had to describe the feeling they would have the say pure bliss after she reached his perfect abs she went back up and kissed him deeper before long they were back at the edge ready to jump for the 2nd time that night her walls were so tight around him he almost thought he might be dreaming this time soon both their vision goes white as for the 2nd time that night the jump off the edge juices mixing once more she kisses him deep one last time before getting off him and going back to cuddling him soon they both fall asleep at some point in their sleep her hand falls across her belly with his on top of hers with both of them having big smiles on their faces.

Crazy Obsession

( Don't own A&A all credit goes to Disney )

Chapter 2

Ally woke up around 6am so she decides to go make her and Austin some pancakes knowing that would wake him up . After getting to the kitchen and getting everything to make the pancakes she started cooking them . It wasn't long before the pancakes were done and right on time Austin was in the kitchen sitting at the table and digging into the pancakes. Ally just shook her head no matter how much she loved him she couldn't deny how much that boy loves pancakes.

After they both got done having breakfast they decided to watch some Tv . By the time one of them looked at the clock it was 8am and they really didn't think much of it but they did finally decide that the need to at least go out and see Trish and Dez Given the fact that they hadn't been out of Ally's bedroom in a few days but they did have a Crazy Obsession with each others bodies . They got dressed and then Austin sent a group text to Trish and Dez seeing if they were up for hanging out with him and Ally at the beach or something .

Group text

Austin â€" hey Guys what do you say about coming to the Beach with me and Ally?

Dez â€" Sure Buddy as long as I'm back in time to walk Phil!

Austin â€" Dez who is Phil?

Trish " you know im always in and Austin this doof got himself a pet zebra Austin " glad you both are in and Dez how did you even get a Zebra from?

Dez- the Zoo Duh

Austin then looks over at Ally and Says " you don't even wanna know what Dez did now I mean I love the guy but this is Crazy even for him he then hands her his phone and so she can see the texts . She then asks how did he even get one out of the Zoo ? I have no idea . They decided to go get changed into their swimsuits Ally had on a yellow Bikini with white dots and Austin had on blue trunks .

After they were ready they packed a basket just in case After finished making everything and putting it into the basket they decide who's car to take eventually they decide to take Austin's since his was blocking Ally's .

While driving Austin was holding Ally's hand it took about five mins to get to the beach Austin parked and he grabbed the basket out of the back seat then he walked around the car and opened the door for Ally and even tho she didn't need it he helped her out and shut the door before taking her hand then heading onto the beach they found a good spot within a few mins Ally sat on the blanket while Austin went into the water for a bit as they waited for their friends it was about a half hour before Trish and Dez Finally showed up it didn't take long for Dez to Join Austin in the water while Trish joins Ally on the blanket soon they girl began to talk about everything just about nothing was off limits to talk about it wasn't long after Dez and Trish had gotten there that Austin and Ally lock eyes and they started to feel that hunger for each other came back ever so fast . Austin gets out of the water and goes over to Ally and lays down Next to her out of habit Ally rolls over and cuddles with him . He also out of habit on his part pulls her as close to him as possible truth they had forgotten that they were even at the beach or with their friends for that matter they had drifted into they're own little world and that wasn't that uncommon for them these days soon they were in a full out make out session totally forgetting everything and everyone around them.

It took Trish yelling at them before they finally pulled a part and Ally said " sorry but we have to go as she stood up taking Austin's hand and leaving as fast as they could they got back to Austin's car in record time but they weren't so sure they would be able to handle to 5 min drive back to her place so they just decide to get in the back seat and continue what they had started .

The full on make out became hotter and hotter soon They were taking each others cloths off they both thought there was something strangely exciting about the risk of getting caught so that is why they thought for the first time in two weeks that they would go for back seat sex well that and they couldn't wait . It only took a matter of moments before they at it with a rhythm that worked in the back seat. Witch wasn't really that difficult given the fact they do this about every other week just to press their luck .

Soon Ally was at to edge wanting to jump to come undone under him she was trying so hard to wait for him so they could have that moment of release together but it was becoming harder and harder to wait with every thrust into her she became more and more unable to control herself but then it happen just like that with the last thrust he was there ready to come with her finally ready to get the release they both needed within a moment they were coming undone thanks to the other she then kisses him deep and asks just as they pull apart if he could now last the 5 mins to her place he then nods and kisses her deeper the she had just kissed him after pulling apart they get dressed and got back into the front seats she took his hand as they pull out of the parking lot of the beach and made their way back to her place .

Once they made it back to her place it wasn't long before Austin had Ally Naked and against the wall in her living room without taking both his hands off her he got his trunks off and kicked it to the side . He slowly pushed himself into her and thrusting a few times before moving to her bedroom Once reaching her bedroom he took no time at all pulling out of her just long enough to lay her down and getting on top of her and getting back to being inside her yet again they picked a good rhythm her meeting his thrusts every time . All to soon their juices were mixing in one pure blissful release . After pulling out of her and laying next to her he pulls her close and kisses her head as they cuddle soon they decide to turn the tv on and watch something. Ally relaxes onto him and watches tv with him . She suddenly starts thinking about what it would be like for them to had kids she was more like wondering about it she wasn't sure how he would react to her asking him what he thought about kids she then thought well they are old enough and she would be done with collage in 2 months . She finally decides that if she doesn't ask him she will never know what he is going to say so she lifts her head just a little and looks at him he looks down at her and asks her what's wrong she sits up and says umâ€¦. Can we talk? He says sure we can what is it? as he sits up as well she looks at him and takes a deep breath he looks at her worried until she starts to speak .

Ally looks at Austin and says wellâ€¦ ummâ€¦.. she sighs then says never mind. Austin then say oh no your not getting away with that not that easy now spill she looks at him in shock a little but then she says that ok but this is kinda hard for me to say Austin looks at her worried again . she then starts to say well im been thinking about stuff. Austin nods then says what kind of stuff ? well you know how I'm going to be done with school in a few months and well she looks at him trying to find the perfect words to say what she needs to . He looks at her and tries to think of what she could have to say that she could have such a hard time trying to tell him But he was coming up with nothing at the moment. Ally was still searching for the right words to say well I she starts off with again she then takes another deep breath for at last she had found a way to say it she takes his hands and says you know how much I love you right ? he says yes and I love you too but what is this about ? well she says I was thinking about what it would be like if we well had something more to love . he then says what you mean like a dog or something ? she says more like or something . Austin Still wasn't fully getting what she was trying to say so he thought about the last words she said very carefully he thought what could she have meant by more like something more ? then after finally wrapping his head around what he thought she might be saying he says Als babe are you trying to tell me your pregnant without actually saying it so you can get a feel for my reaction ? Ally no I'm I just wanted your thoughts on trying

Austin looks at her and says babe I've been thinking about starting a family with you since the first time I told you I loved you . she looks at him and says really ? He nods and pulls her close and kisses her deep he then lays her back down and gets back on top of her and since they were already naked from before he just pushes himself into her . he keeps kissing her from her lips , down her neck and over to her breasts and back again but taking him time with each area of her skin . As he is on her neck for the fourth time she was running her fingers between his hair and back . It was just a few more trusts and they were coming once more . He pulled out of her kissed her then lays down next to her . She cuddle with him tile they both fall asleep .

The next morning for the first time Austin woke up before Ally he thought to himself wow I must have really tired her out feeling proud of that but then she always looked sexy when she slept . it was one of the rare moments where he finds himself awake before the love of his life and he gets to take in the sight of how beautiful and sexy she is when she sleeps .

Austin decides he would make breakfast then bring it to her in bed so he goes downstairs and starts cooking it didn't take long before he was plating and drinks were in glasses and he was on his way back upstairs . He walks back into the room and sets the tray on the nightstand then tries to wake her up so he gets back in bed and starts kissing her neck witch seems to work because she starts moving and moaning She then opens her eyes and she says good morning handsome then kisses him and sits up he smiles then says good morning beautiful then says i have something for you she looks at him then he hands her the tray .

After breakfast he asks her what she would like to do today ? she looks at him and says umâ€¦ I don't know what do you wanna do today he then says I'm 100% fine with us staying in bed all day as he lays her back on the bed she kisses him and says sounds like a plan then.

A/N OK guys done chapter time to go back to Midnight son or The day we became five and if anyone has any ideas for a title of midnight son's sequel title let me know thanks and please review thanks
